The definition of an international student includes anyone who is enrolled at Princeton University who is not a U.S. Citizen or U.S. Permanent Resident. It also includes students with F-1 and J-1 status who are non-degree students as well as students who have completed their studies and are in a period of post-graduate employment called Optional Practical Training (F-1 visa) and Academic Training (J-1 visa) still under Princeton’s visa sponsorship.
International Students comprise 24% of the total student enrollment and 42% of the total graduate student population and 12% of the total undergraduate population.

OPT – Optional Practical Training Employment related to major concentration after completion of studies still on Princeton University F-1 visa type.

VSRC – (Visiting Student Research Collaborator) A program for an advanced degree candidate from another institution who comes to work for a limited timeframe with a specific faculty member on a collaboration or mutual research project.
